American teen jailed for violating quarantine in Cayman Islands gets reduced sentence
- A U.S. teen jailed in the Cayman Islands for violating COVID-19 restrictions will only serve two months behind bars, her lawyer said Tuesday. Skylar Mack, a 21-year-old, pre-med student at Mercer University in Georgia, was arrested on November 29 after breaking her quarantine to attend her boyfriend's jet ski competition.
- Mack and her boyfriend, Vanjae Ramgeet, were originally sentenced to four months in prison but the punishment was reduced to two months at an appeals court Tuesday, attorney Jonathan Hughes told CBS News.

The Coronavirus Has Reached Antarctica. Now It's In Every Continent
- Antarctica is no longer the only continent free of the pandemic.
- Thirty-six people stationed at the General Bernardo O'Higgins Riquelme Antarctic base had tested positive for the virus, Chilean officials said this week. The permanent research station is located on tip of the continent south of Chile.
- Of those infected, 26 are members of the Chilean army and 10 are civilian maintenance personnel, authorities said in a statement to the Spanish-language television channel 24 Horas. The officials added that contact tracing was underway and those who tested positive were in isolation.
- No other countries have publicly reported positive cases on Antarctica, USA Today reported, and there have been concerted efforts to ensure the virus did not reach the remote continent.

Trump demands $2,000 stimulus checks, calls long-awaited coronavirus relief bill a 'disgrace'
- President Trump on Tuesday night asked Congress to amend the nearly $900 billion stimulus bill passed just one day before, describing the legislation as "a disgrace" and suggesting he would not immediately sign off on aid for millions of Americans.
- In a video posted to Twitter, Trump called on Congress to increase the "ridiculously low" $600 stimulus checks to $2,000 and outlined a list of provisions in the overall package of legislation that he described as "wasteful spending and much more." He did not mention that the $600 stimulus check idea came from his treasury secretary, Steven Mnuchin.
- "I am also asking Congress to immediately get rid of the wasteful and unnecessary items from this legislation, and to send me a suitable bill, or else the next administration will have to deliver a covid relief package." Trump said.

California Health System Buckling Under COVID-19 Pandemic
- California's health care system is buckling under the strain of the nation's largest coronavirus outbreak and may fracture in weeks if people ignore holiday social distancing, health officials warned as the number of people needing beds and specialized care soared to previously unimagined levels.
- Top executives from the state's largest hospital systems —Kaiser Permanente, Dignity Health and Sutter Health, which together cover 15 million Californians — said Tuesday that increasingly exhausted staff, many pressed into service outside their normal duties, are now attending to COVID-19 patients stacked up in hallways and conference rooms.

Kirk Cameron organizes caroling protests amid California's Covid-19 surge

- Actor Kirk Cameron is facing criticism for organizing at least two events in Southern California in recent weeks, where dozens of mask-less people stood shoulder-to-shoulder to sing Christmas carols in protest of state and local stay-at-home mandates.
- "I'm getting ready to go out in 38 minutes, it's T-38 minutes for our Christmas caroling peaceful protest," Cameron said in an Instagram post in advance of an event held in the parking lot of The Oaks mall in Thousand Oaks, California. "We are going to be celebrating our God-given liberties, our constitutionally protected rights at this time at Christmas to sing Christmas songs to gather, to assemble, and to sing about the birth of our savior."

Throw Out the Rulebook - To Get Through Pandemic Holidays, A Therapist Says – 15 Min Listen

- Even if you know, intellectually, that the holidays are not actually "the most wonderful time of the year" (and can, in fact, be incredibly stressful), coping with feelings of loneliness, guilt, anger, and despair during the month of December can be very challenging. And thanks to the ongoing pandemic, a lot of people are feeling bad right now. The news is bleak, pretty much everyone is stretched thin, and comfort and joy are in short supply, making it that much harder to muster the energy to celebrate — or even to reach out and ask for help.

Holiday Air Travel

- Foot traffic through airports last weekend topped 1 million people a day for three straight days -- something that hadn't happened since March before the coronavirus shut the nation down. But that is still less than half of what it was at this time a year ago, which doesn't bode well for a part of the oil barrel that will by most estimates will be the last to recover.
